The Early Learning Center at Fieldhome emphasizes the development of the whole child, including social, emotional, language, intellectual, and physical. Our founding principles include the belief that young children learn best through play. Learning experiences are age appropriate and developmentally balanced through child initiated and teacher directed activities. In our safe and secure, home-like atmosphere, we strive to help each child flourish to his or her fullest potential and build a strong, self-confident image. Young children require and deserve individualized attention, and for this reason, our group size is small and separate for infants, toddlers, and preschoolers.

Infants (6 weeks-18 months)

Your baby is unique, which is why their routine becomes our routine. We follow an individualized schedule for each infant based on their distinctive personality, habits and needs. This approach is a flexible one, adapting as your child grows and changes. With the exception of formula, we supply all foods at your direction and adjust their diet as you indicate.

Toddlers (18 months-3 years)

Moving to greater independence, toddlers explore the world through their five senses. We facilitate this by small activity centers like a sensory table, blocks and dress-up area. We also promote growing self-help skills and advance your child's developing language skills in activities throughout the day. Self expression is encouraged as well as social development where we encourage your child to respect and get along with others.

Pre-School (3-5 years)

As kindergarten approaches, pre-schoolers become part of a more academic environment. Numbers and letters are incorporated into activities such as stories, art, science and conversation. Learning experiences stem from a broad theme each month, promoting readiness, language and creative expression skills.

The Staff

Carol Milillo is The Early Learning Center's Program Director. Ms. Milillo has a Masters Degree in Elementary and Early Childhood. She is also MAT Certified to administer medications.

Our staff members are all experienced and are trained in CPR and First Aid. They continually enhance their knowledge through two annual staff development days, inservice education and outside workshops on topics such as health, nutrition, age appropriate curriculum, discipline and communicating with parents.
