

FIELDHOME Receives A Deficiency Free Rating
from the
NY State Department of Health

On January 25, 2011, FIELDHOME's skilled nursing and rehabilitation facility, Field Home – Holy Comforter, received a deficiency free survey by the NY State Department of Health. In order to receive such a successful survey, a long-term care facility must meet all state and federal regulations. Surveys are performed annually, unannounced, by the DOH to ensure quality care. Surveyors evaluate the care and services residents receive and speak with residents and their families regarding the treatment they receive and their opinions about the nursing home.

“To achieve a deficiency free survey requires great effort and professional commitment,” states John Ahearn, CEO. “A result like this cannot be accomplished without a strong team effort and the individual support of each and every staff member. Fieldhome has once again demonstrated why it is viewed as the best in the field.”
